

Curriculum vitae

Jörg-Andreas Krüger

President of the German Nature and Biodiversity Conservation Union (NABU)

Career

1989	Qualified as administrative officer
1989 – 1991	Administrative officer for the city of Oldenburg
1998	Engineering degree in landscape architecture
1998	Personal assistant to member of the Landtag Dr Christian Magerl
1999 – 2004	NABU state association of Lower Saxony, assistant to the management
2004 – 2013	NABU Germany, head of nature conservation and environmental policy
2013 – 2017	WWF Germany, head of biodiversity
2017 – 2019	WWF Germany, director ecological footprint
Since 2019	NABU Germany, President

Memberships and honorary appointments

- Commission on the Future of Agriculture of the German government
- Scientific advisory board of the Thünen Institute
- Steering group of the Charta für Holz 2.0 of the German government
- German Council for Sustainable Development
- Krombacher sustainability council
- Socio-political advisory board of the acatech project Shaping Technological Change: Transparency, Dialogue and Participation for Societal Consensus
- Board of trustees of the Michael Otto Environmental Foundation
- Scientific advisory board of the UN Decade on Ecosystem Restoration
- Board of trustees of the Stiftung Naturschutzgeschichte foundation
- Board of Agora Agrar